DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 15, 16, and 2 – 7 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3 – 13 of copending Application No. 10/520543. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other for the following reasons:

As for claims 15 and 16, claim 10 of the '543 application discloses a sliding board with an upper shell, lower web, and foam core. Rail-type guiding elements extend in a longitudinal direction and receive a binding element (claim 9). First and second anchoring elements (i.e. connecting extensions) are connected by a connecting element. Said anchoring elements are retained by hardened foam.

As for claim 2 the '543 application discloses preformed openings (claim 5).

As for claim 3, it would have been obvious to form the openings such that they surround the anchoring elements without a gap to prevent foam from escaping the shell during manufacturing (also see '543, Fig. 3).

As for claim 4, it would have been obvious to provide the anchoring elements with grooves or cutouts to facilitate flow of the foam during manufacturing (also see '543, Fig. 3).

As for claim 5, it would have been obvious to make the anchoring elements pin or bolt shaped as a matter of obvious design choice (also see '543, Fig. 3).

As for claim 6, it would have been obvious to increase the surface area of the anchoring elements to increase adhesion to the core material (also see 9A, Fig. 3 in the '543 application).

As for claim 7, it would have been obvious to make the connecting element plate shaped to increase adhesion to the core material.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9 – 14 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
